Metique Tea Tree Range - Hygienic Skin Wash

Tea tree is something all of us have probably used as a teen. When I was a teen it was THE thing to use to get rid of spots. Luckily I managed to swan through my teens without so much as a breakout. But in my early twenties I developed breakouts that aren't even worth mentioning. Luckily over the years, I now know how to cover them, mostly. But when I was approached to try some tea tree products, my first thought was 'why didn't I think of this before?!'

Going back to basics sometimes is the only way.

I tried Metique Tea Tree 5% Hygienic Skin Wash.

I used to in the morning for a week and it helped clear up my skin and get it back under control. Well, as much control as I can have over my skin that decides to go AWOL more often than I'd like. Because the % of tea tree used is much higher than most tea tree products.

This wash can be use on your face & body. I have been using it the few days after waxing on my underarms to warn off any ingrown hairs and to keep the skin fresh. This would be really good for men who shave a lot and can be prone to spots. It dries out blemishes nicely and attacks spots to stop them developing.
