Next on the list is a fairly recent discovery which I've blogged about already, but I wanted to include it here too: Metique Tea Tree Oil Hand and Body Lotion. Metique isn't a brand I'd heard of before but I'm very glad to have been introduced to it. This is a lovely lightweight lotion which sinks into the skin really easily, yet is very moisturising, so is great if you're in a rush. I use it after showering at the gym. It also contains tea tree oil which is a natural antiseptic, so I'd suggest giving it a go if you get oily skin or breakouts on your chest (or anywhere else).

REVIEW 14 February 2011 Healingbeauty.co.uk
Metique 5% Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash and 3% Hygienic Cleanser.

After trying and enjoying I was recently sent their Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash (250ml) and Hygienic Cleanser(100ml) to try. The Metique range is all made with tea tree oil, a natural antiseptic, and the range, originating in Australia, was created with salon beauty and healthcare professionals in mind. Metique hygienic skin wash Formulated with 5% tea tree oil, Metique Hygienic Skin Wash is antiseptic and antibacterial, designed to clean and kill germs while leaving skin soft and maintaining your immune system's natural balance. Its sulphate free, therefore non-foaming and great for sensitive skin as sulphates can be irritating, especially with frequent use. It's enriched with Vitamin E for added moisture. I have used this a few times now and it does exactly what it says it will; it smells antiseptic (of tea tree) and leaves my hands feeling very clean but not at all 'squeaky' and dry. It's not a luxurious, fancy product, but if you want something practical that kills germs and is good for sensitive skin, I'd definitely recommend it. This could be a great product for mums wanting to keep your hands germ free to protect your little ones, while keeping your skin soft and nourished. Metique says the formula is safe enough to use as a face wash or for intimate areas too, although I haven't tested this myself. Metique Hygienic Cleanser Have you tried any Metique products yet? Let me know what you think.

Metique Hand & Body Lotion

The other product which has been a lifesaver recently is Metique's Tea Tree Hand and Body Lotion. I hadn't heard of this range before being sent a sample to try but have found it to be an amazing product.

The hero ingredient (as suggested by the name) is tea tree oil, a natural antiseptic. It also contains Vitamin E to moisturise. In texture this is a light lotion which I find ideal for using in the mornings as it absorbs really quickly. It smells sort of medicinal (due to the tea tree) which at first I wasn't sure about but have gotten used to; the scent doesn't linger on your skin anyway so it's not a problem if you don't particularly like it.

I find this really hydrates my skin all day long and has particularly helped smooth the backs of my upper arms, which tend to get especially dry and irritated in winter.

At £10.49

it won't break the bank either.

Metique 100% Pure Tea Tree Oil

Foot note tip to try: My friend Carole recommends popping an aspirin tablet into a warm Pedi- bowl of water to fizz your feet into relaxation, the aspirin will also soothe swollen achy feet. I tried this with a drop of Metique Tea-Tree oil (priced at £8.99 25ml, available to buy from http://www.teatreeoilproducts.co.uk/shop/consumer-products/tea-tree-oil-pure-100-/prod_3.html) for that extra therapeutic touch. Guess what Carole? Your easy peasy lemon squeezy tip works!

THE COMEBACK Tea Tree Oil

Every bathroom cabinet and sponge bag should hold a bottle of tea tree oil – it is an excellent natural antiseptic – and this one, Metique Tea Tree Oil, is 100 per cent pure organic oil from Australian plantations. Dab sparingly on bites and skin irritations, or drop it on to a cold flannel as a compress for sunburn (£4.99, 01825-890236).

Tea Tree Oil offers hope of new effective treatment for skin cancer. Tea Tree Oil may provide a fast, cheap and effective treatment for some skin cancers, according to scientists (funded by Novasel Pty Ltd, Brand Owners of METIQUE). Non-melanoma skin cancer is one of the most common types of cancer in the UK, with around 100,000 new cases diagnosed every year.
