Metique Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash

The cold weather that we have been having in the UK has been playing havoc with my skin, it's been causing me breakouts and excess oil. Recently I was sent some Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash* from Metique as well as some Hand & Body Antiseptic Lotion Pouches*, they came so beautifully packaged I just had to take a photo to show all of you. Now I was thrilled about this as had always used Tea Tree Oil products when I was a teenager to tame my acne and had totally forgot that they existed.

So first of all, for those of you who have never heard of Metique before, they are a company which provides Tea Tree products made with Natural Australian Tea Tree. They sell a whole range of products such as skin wash, body lotion, condition, shampoo, etc.

Metique Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash

The Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash is of a thin consistency and is non foaming as it does not contain sulphites, therefore great for sensitive skin. I normally use about two pumps, rub into wet skin and then rinse. I have been using this for a few weeks now as I wanted to see how well it worked on my skin before giving all of you my opinion, and I absolutely love it! It has drastically improved the breakouts I have been having due to the cold weather and now only get the odd little spot. If you suffer from acne on part of your body such as your chest and back, this would be perfect for helping to clear it up.

I must add that I have extremely sensitive skin and this did not irritate my skin even in the slightest which is amazing for me. Also, my boyfriend has been sneakily using this too and loves it just as much as me, will definitely be purchasing a 1 litre bottle of the Skin Wash as soon as this one has run out. The Tea Tree Oil Hygienic Skin Wash* retails at £10.20 for the 250ml bottle and £29 for the 1000ml.

If your skin is having a hard time adjusting to the cold weather, you suffer from acne or just want a new face wash that is going to make you feel refreshed in the morning then this is definitely for you!
